PHILADELPHIA, May 18, 1851.

An Unfaithful Wife-Balloon Ascension-Suicide. A returned Californian who reached this city by the last arrival, with his pockets full of golden rocks, the pro-duce of two years labor in that land of privation and hardships, met with a severe blow that crushed his anti-cipations of domestic felicity, at one fell swoop. As he entered the home prepared by him before starting for his wife and family, he met her, with an infant in her sums only a few weeks old, the child of her own infamy. The unhappy husband, as soon as he sufficiently recov-ered from the blow to know what he was about, left for New York, with his own children, and the property he-longing to them. He had brought home six hundred counces of gold dust. Hr. Pusey made a second balloon ascension yesterday, in a car instead of on an imitation horse, as promised

The Cuba Invasion at the South.

ARREST OF MORE OF THE INVADRES.

(From the Savannah (Ga.) News, May 13]

The steamer Magnolia, arrived yesterday morning from Palatka, having on board Samuel J. Kookeger and Mr. Rawiston, in charge of U. S. Deputy Marshal Finney, and some 27 men, who were a part of a company engaged in the late Cuba movement. The U. S. revenue cutter Taney, Capt. Rudolph, has been for some time in the neighborhood of Satilla River, and after the arrival of officer Finney at that place, it was assertained that some persons connected with the expedition were at a plantation called Waverly. The Deputy Marshal, accompanied by the officers of the outter, proceeded to the plantation, and arrested the above named individuals, who are supposed to be officers of the Columbus company. They were taken on board of the Taney, and placed on the steamer Magnolia, and brought to this city. At St. Mary's the 27 men also took passage on the Magnolia, their passages having been paid by the Collector at that port.

The cutter Taney is still cruising on the South passages having been paid by the Collector at that port.

The cutter Taney is still cruising on the South coast, but is expected to return to this city shortly. The examination of the two individuals now in this city, under arrest, will not take place until the Taney arrives. They have, we understand, given bonds for their appearance.

There is at this time a considerable number of men in our city, supposed to have been connected with the expedition. The steamer Welaka, which arrived on Sunday last, brought some twenty-five or thirty from the South. They are mostly finelooking young men, and bear the traces of camplific.

looking young men, and bear the traces of camp-life.

They are all, however, in good spirits, only re-gretting the mischances which have, for the present, prevented the consummation of the enterprise in which they have embarked.

The encampment at Burnt Fort is said to be en-tirely broken up. We heard it stated that upwards of 200 men are under arrest at some point on the Satilla—we, however, put little confidence in the recort.

[From the same paper, May 12.]

The steamer St. Matthews arrived from Jacksonville on Saturday, but brought little additional information in relation to the late Cuban movement in that quarter. The mea who had renderwoused at Jacksonville had nearly all returned to their homes. A small company, probably not more than 60 or 70, were in the neighborhood of Burnt Fort, on Wednesday last, and were making arrangements to return to the interior. Our informant stated that typwards of 600 men had passed that point within a few weeks past, whose object was to join the expedition. They expressed great dissatisfaction in not being able to enter upon the object which they had in view, but were all widing to embark upon the enterprise at any future day. They are represented as having been a fine body of men. The ladies of Jacksonville had wrought for them some beautiful banners, which, for the present, have been furied, and will be preserved for a more propitious day. Since it has been known in the neighborhood of Jacksonville, that the project has been abandoned, the cause of Cuban independence has gained strength with the people, and many who heretofore were backward or indifferent on the subject, are now the open advocates o the expedition.

ALLEGED MERCANTILE AND PORT OFFICE DEFALCATION IN Geometra.—The following is an extract of a letter received by the editor of the Constitutionalist, from Macon, dated May 10th, giving an account of the defalcation of the Postmaster of that city.—Day before yesterday we thad a Postmaster; to day the office is in the hands of the exerts. Capt Z. J. Commer left yesterday—no one knows where he went to. He is a defaulter to a very large amount, on funds which he received at his warehouse for cotton sold, and he is a defaulter also as Postmaster. The amount on cotton, by report, varies from $13,600 to $470,000. Amount in the post office said to be $3,400. Some of the planters in the neighboring counties have lost their whole crops that were under storage in the warehouse.

Address of Mombers of the Constitutional Convention of 1846.

To the electors of the matter of New york:

The undersigned, who were members of the Constitutional Convention of 1846, and who concurred with the majority of that body to maturing and adopting the financial article of the constitution, feet justified by recent events affecting the constitution, feet justified by recent events affecting the constitution of that article, to address you on this occasion.

Without arrogating to ourselves any poculiar authority in relation to questions arising under the constitution, we may be permitted to say that we were placed in a situation of some advantage in respect to the objects and intentions of those by whom its mancial provisions were prepared.

The history of the agitation which led to the cail of a convention, and our own knowledge of the design of the friends of the constitution, concur with the entire financial article, both in its general scope and in its details, in pointing out the evils it was intended to accompiliab.

Its design was to secure the payment of the existing State debt out of the canal revenues and to insure thereafter a prosperous financial condition, by placing at the disposal of each succeeding Legislature the revenues of its own fiscal year, unincumbered by the debts of previous legislation; to permit no anticipation and expenditure by the Legislature, of future revenues, and to allow it to contract no public debt without the sanction of a direct vote by the people, except for certain specified emergencies, and to a limited amount.

These designs, we do not hasitate to say, were carried out in the constitution. It appropriates the revenues of the canals as follows:

To pay annually towards the Canal debt ... $1,300,000 To pay interest on the General Fund debt... $20,000 For the support of government... 200,000 when the sum to be annually applied to the Canal debt is increased to $1.709.000, making an annual aggregate after that time of $2.200.000, until the Canal debt is paid, or a sufficient sum set agent for that purpose; and after that, $1.500.000 are appropriated, to be applied annually, to extinguish the General Fund debt, until that shall be paid.

Having thus provided for the payment of the existing State debts, the constitution declares that "the remainder of the revenues of the canals shall in each fiscal year be applied in such manner as the Legislature shall direct to the completion of the Krie Canal enlargement, and of the Genese Valley and Black River canals, until such canals shall be completed."

Another section provides, "that the canals shall not be sold, leaved or otherwise disposed of, but shall remain the property of the State, and under its management forever."

Again, it is provided "that no moneys shall ever be paid out of the tressury of the State, or any of its funds, or any funds under its management, except in pursuance of an appropriation by law, nor unless such payment shall be made within two years next affer the passage of the appropriation set.

And finally, it prohibits the creation of any debt by or on behalf of the State, except to the extent, in the whole, of one million of dollars, and except to repel invasions, suppress insurrection, and defend the State in war, without first submitting the question to the people, and obtaining their approval, by a direct vote upon it, at a general election.

These are the provisions of the constitution.

The measure lately pending in the Legislature, known as the Canal bill, directs the completion of the Eric Canal enlargement, and the Genesee Valley and Back River Canals, within three years.

It provides for receiving money for that purpose by issuing canal revenue certificates to the amount of nine mine millions of dollars, the principal payable in twenty-one years, and interest at six per cent, semi-annually, out of the surplus cannit revenues not specially appropriated by the constitution to the public debt and the apport of government.

It requires the Ganal Board to regulate the toils on the canals is such manner as to produce at least $800,000 a year, showe appropriation to the public debt and for the support of government, for three years; and $1,000,000 a year, thereafter f spects it violates the policy and contravenes the objects the constitution was established to secure. In expressing an opinion of the proposed measure in its relation to the constitution, we have purposely avoid-ed referring to other provisions contained in it, of an ex-traordinary character, but which are referable to ques-tions of public policy, distinct from those of constitution-ality.

We appeal to you to preserve inviolate these most salitary restraints upon the power of the Legislature to create a public debt. They are founded in the wisdom of experience—many other States have followed our example, and inserted similar restraining provisions in their organic laws. If these restraints sometimes operate to prevent desirable investments of anticipated revenues, they also secure us against the hazards of improvident expenditures and constitute our only safety against the greatest of public evils in a free government—an over burthensome public debt.

Arrest of a Burgler.—On Sunday morning, officer Laily, one of the vigilant policemen of the Sixth ward, arrested a reque called Islatore Bellow, whom the officer saw at about three o'clock, making up Orange street, near the Five Points, having in his possession two pairs of new boots and one pair of patent leather shoes, valued in all at about $15. The officer on finding this property, was certain it was stolen, and accordingly conveyed the rogue and the property to the station house. Yesterday it was ascertained that some burglar had broken into the boot and shoe store No. 24 Nassau street, corner of Cedar, kept by Feter S. Underhill. The property found on the prisoner was identified by Mr. Underhill to be a portion of that stolen from his premises. Justice Lothrep committed the accused to prison for trial.

Not up to Soniff—A woman of disrepute, called Amanda Stewart, was arrested on Saturday night, on a charge of violentity assaulting a person by the name of Affred Ives, residing at No. 200 Tenth street, by throwing a quantity of sunf into his eyes. It seems the woman met Mr. Ives in the street and walked before him, and holding a paper containing the snoff in her hand, before he was combied to restrain her action, she threw the contents of the paper into his face, and a large quantity of the snuff few into his seyes. The aid of the police was sought, and officer Ryandus, of the Eighth ward, being near, took the woman into custody. She was conveyed before Justice McGrath, who committed her to prison to answer the charge.

Bowers Theatrical and Musical.

Bowers Theatric.—The usual features of attraction are offered for this evening's entertainment. When we say usual, we mean that the amusements generally speaking, are excellent. This evening, the performances will commence with the grand historical play entitled "Walter Tyrrell or the Saxon's Oath"—the part of William the Second by Mr. Titton; that of Walter Tyrrell by that able and very promising actor. Mr. E. Kdy, and Echibab by Mise C. Wennyss. Miss Hiffert will sing the "Flag of our Union;" and the entertainments will conclude with "Belphegor, or the Mountebank and His Family"—Guillaume by Mr. Eddy; the Chevalier de Rolhe by Mr. Titton; Henri by Miss S. Denin, and Madeline, wife to Belphegor, by Mr. & Wenyss. This is, indeed, an attractive programme, and one that will certainly crowd the house. Hamblin is making great efforts to please his numerous patrons, by the introduction of everything novel, and we are glad to perceive his exertions are crowned with success.

Breadway Theavas.—The features of attraction for this evening are, first, the laughable piece entitled the "Rough Diamond." with Mr. Parry as Gousin Joe, and Mrs. Abbott as Margery; Fredericks as Sir William Evergreen; Reynolds as Captain Blendelm, and the pretty Miss A Gougenheim as Lady Plato. The terminating piece will be the grand romantic spectacle of "Faustus, or the Demon of the Drachenfels."—the part of Faustus, the German doctor, by Mr. Harris: that of Mephistopheles by Mr. Conway; Wagaer by Davidge with Hill. Shaw Reynolds, Miss Anderton Mrs. Abbott. Miss A. Gougenheim, and others, in the respective characters, for some time past, the distinguished artists, the Rouset family, have been drawing is beautiful in the extreme; the views are magnificent; that of Venice, with gondolas passing and repassing filled with masqueraders, displaying all the gorgoous preparations for the apprenching carnival, is in itself worth the price of admitsion.

Nisto's Gassen —As soon as one attraction is gone the proprietor of will close with the fine farce of "Crimson Crimes." with Burton, Johnson, and Mrs. Skerrett in the principal characters.

National Theatre.—The grand fairy spectacle of "Thalaba," which has created such excitement among the play-going community for the last two weeks, is advertised to be continued during the current one. The unparalleled paironage which has been bestowed on the exertions of the proprietor, in producing an attractive amusement for his numerous visitors, keeps bim in the continual receipt of new productions. Another new operatic burleaque extravaganaza will be produced this evening, entitled "Damio and Pythio," which will commence the evening a amusements, with Messrs. L. Fox, Herbert, La Faver. Miss E. Mestayer, and Mrs. Drew, sustaining the principal characters. This will be followed by the gorgeous fairy spectacle, called "Thinlaba, the Destroyer, or the Burning Sword," which, for scenic effect, magnificent costumes, machinery, &c., has never been surpassed. Mrs. C. R. Thorne. Miss E. Mestayer, and Mr. Brandon will perform their respective excellent parts, as usual.

BEGUGRAM'S LVERUM.—The performances will commence with Lester's successful drama of the "Fortune of War." The scenery in this beautiful production is splendid; the mechanical and scenic effects are magnificent. The character's are all-filled by the leading artists of the establishment, namely, Messrs. Brougham. Dunn, Leach, Palmer, Lyster, Raymond, Mrs. W. R. Blake, and Miss Gould. The secomplished danseuse. Mile, Duoy, Barre, who has become a great favorite, will dance with Mr. Smith, a pas de deux from "Giselle." This will be followed by the celebrated extravaganas of "Don Giovanni in London," in which Miss Mary Taylor, Miss Julia Gould. Messrs, Brougham, Lynne, Leach, and Raymond, will fill the principal characters. A grand masquerade comes off in the third act. Brougham is doing wonders at Ufe bycenus; he is indefatigable in his effocts to establish his concern, and we are glad to perceive he is successful.

lish his concern, and we are glad to perceive he is successful.

Bansuw's Musicum.—A grand dramatic treat is offered at this popular resort, for the coming week. The wonderful indant artists, Kate and Edlen Bateman, whose recent tour throughout the South and West was greeted with the highest encomiums from the press and the public are engaged to appear in a round of their most favorite characters. This afternoon, they will appear in a new connedictate, called the "Young Couple." In the evening, they will appear in the fourth act of "The Merchant of Venice," and "The Young Couple."

Compary's Missers, —This unrivalled band of negro personators, were honored during the past week, with densely crowded and highly intelligent audiences, and their several performances were received with enthusiastic encores. An excellent collection of song, dances, jokes, burlesque operas, and instrumental pieces, is announced for the present week.

Fillows' Missersha.—The new burlesque opera entitled "To My Read Dear," which was performed instrumental with the thrice encored "Fireman's Chaunt," and a variety of singing and dancing. The instrumental performances cannot be excelled.

Mr. Buckland, the treasurer of Brougham's Lyceum, takes a heaffit to morrow evening when a hill of great.

Mr. BUCKLAND, the treasurer of Brougham's Lyceum, takes a benefit to morrow evening, when a bill of great attractiors is offered. No doubt his friends, for they are many, will crowd the house.

The Klamath river could not be entered in the middle of April by veasels of more than 6 or 8 tons, and it must be a emouth time. Eight feet of water on the bar. Steamer Gen Warren laid off Golf Bluft two days before she could discharge; but faaily succeeded, after staving two boats and injuring three persons.

Capt Baker, of the Anna E Maine, at San Francisco from Astoria, G. came out by the N side of the Columbia obnamel, and found Is feet on the bar at low water. He reports this passage to be much anfer than the southern, by following close along the shore from Port Ellis to Gray's Bay.

Islanus in the Pacific—Capt Wm J Rogers, of the ship Flavius, at Honolula March J, from Hong Kong, gives the following extract from the log of his vessel:—Ship Flavius, Feb. 7, 1851—At noon were directly in the position of an island laid down on Navie's chart, lat 29 deg 40 min N, lon 135 deg E. The island does not exist in the position assigned it by the chart, for the day was remarkably clear, and I could have seen land at least 15 miles from the mast head, but saw nothing.

Lat 12 deg 10 min N, lon 135 deg 35 min E, passed a small island not laid down in any chart that I have seen. The island a lauppose can be seen 15 or 20 miles in clear day.

Ship Sond Robertson, of Fairhaven, Capt Washburn, has made a fair run of 25 days from Honolein, having ceiled at the Hervey Islands, and also been some days crustens off the East Cape. This vessel has been remarkably successful, and although only I mos out has now on board 250 bbls black oil, and shipped to the States 500 bbls black and 600 sperm at Honoleiu. She has been cruising chiefly in the Arctic Ocean and Bhering's Straits, where Capt Washburn reposts whales to have been plentiful all last season; and although a greater number of whalers had visited those seas than on any former occasion, the majority of them had sell been very successful. The Sami Robertson cleared for Hong Kong, but Capt Washburn, meeting with much detention, shaped his course southward. As a specimen of what the American whalers are, and what all whalers ought to be, both as segards her roomy accommodations, well found equipments, and admirably clean and slip-shape condition, she is one of the best of her class we have seen for a long time. With vessels of this class capged in the whale fashery in these sens, the success of our American competitors, over both the English and colonial whalers, is lays to be wondered at. She has put in here for water and refreshments, and is las in want of hands.—(New Zealander, Ja

The Married Woman's Private Medical Companion—By Dr. A. M. Mauricoau, Professor of Discosor of Woman—Twentieth edition, Ismo., pp. 250—Price $1.—Years of suffering, of physical and mental anguish to many an affectionate wise, and pecuniary difficulties to the hubband, might bare been spared by a timely possession of this work. It is intended especially for the married, or these contemplating marriage, as it discloses important socrees, which should be known to them particularly.

To those whose health does not permit of an increase of family, it is of especial importance.

Here, also, every female—the wife, the mother—the one either budding into womanhood, or the one in the decline of years, in whom nature contemplates an important change, and discover the causes, symptoma, and the most efficient remedies, and most certain mode of cure, in every complaint to which her sex is subject.

My Dan Sun:—My wife has been perceptibly sinking for some three years or mere, in consequence of hergreet english and suffering some months before and during har reaminated and enforced processive one more and more debilitated, and proctrated her, putting her life in imminent danger, each which was on the last occasion despaired of, I supposed that this state of things was inevitable, and resigned myself to meet the worst. At this time (now about two months), it heard your book highly spoken of, as containing some masters reaching my case. On its receipt and perusal, I cannot express to you the relief it afferded my distressed mind, and the joy its pages imparted to my wife, on learning that the opened a prospect to me, which I little conceived was peasible. But for this, cre another year would have passed over my head, in all human probability, my wife would have been be regare, and my children left motherless.

It is, of course, impracticable to convey more fully the various antijects brated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the married, or those contemplating marriage. For sale at 122 Bendway, and at the Publishing Office, illudicated a contemplating marriage.
